AT a special meeting of the Board of property in Lancaster, June 24, 1799.

Present,

Daniel Brodhead, Sec. Gen.
John Hall, Secretary, } of the Land office.
Francis Johnston, Reg. Gen.

The petition of Thomas Stewardson on behalf of himself and the other trustees for the estate of Samuel Caldwell, surviving partner of James Meese, bearing date Philadelphia, 5th Month 17th 1799, stated as follows, viz. That a certain John Collins had in consequence of fraudulent deeds poll, obtained patents for two certain tracts of land, one situate in the county of Northumberland, surveyed to Samuel Caldwell in pursuance of a warrant dated in 1774; and the other situate now in Luzerne county, surveyed to said Caldwell by a warrant also dated in 1774—and requested that patents might be granted, for the said tracts, to William Crammond, Edward Tilghman, John Ashley, and Thomas Stewardson, trustees of the estate of Samuel Caldwell, surviving partner of James Meese, as the said two tracts were part of the estate of Meese and Caldwell.

Whereupon the Board having considered the same, ordered that at least sixty days notice be given in one of the Philadelphia newspapers, and in the Lancaster Journal to the said Collins or his assigns, to appear before the Board on the first Monday in October next, to shew cause if any he or they have, why patents should not issue for the said two tracts to the said trustees agreeably to the prayer of the said petition.

COMMUNICATION.

WHEN ALEXANDER J. DALLAS assumed to himself the office of directing the freemen of this commonwealth whom they ought to elect for their governor, I must confess my feelings were wounded while I reflected on the state of degradation to which we had arrived in submitting to be thus insolently dictated to by a man who has arrived here long since our revolution, under "circumstances" and having previously "acted parts" unknown to me, but has barely appeared here as "a bird of ill omen," at the head of a faction avowedly inimical to the government of our country. An address, signed by Dallas and published some weeks since in the servile gazettes of this city, and containing the most base and false aspersions on the political views of the first men of our State, by no means completed the measure of insolence of this man; but a publication addressed to Robert Wharton, Esq. has since appeared in Claypoole's impartial paper, with the signature of this EXOTIC, and exhibits to my mind an instance of impudence unparalleled in any country, and indecent abuse equalled only to that which flows daily from the same factious source of vile slander and defamation. In this publication, signed by Dallas, Coxe, Leib and co. the modest Dallas says, he "would as soon have expected to have found the worthy Mayor of our city at the head of a band for the purpoies of ASSASINATION AND PILLAGE," as chairman of the meeting of respectable citizens at Dunwoody's. In thus having acted as chairman of a meeting of many of the most valuable citizens of Philadelphia, a fortune-hunting sycophant has the audacity to charge ROBERT WHARTON with "a prostitution of personal character," and with being "President of an association for the purposes of defamation and scandal." For my part I have thought that Faucbet's intercepted letter and the general conduct of Dallas that certain certificates which ascertain the value of Leib's character and Coxe's entrance into Philadelphia in the retinue of Cornwallis, all had placed the reputation of these men in such lights that it became impossible they could be defamed. But the address to Mr. Wharton, though worthy of Dallas and his co-adjutors, I fear is yet insufficient to rouse into action the indignation of a respectable committee, who appears to be tied to a mill-stone, hanging ponderously about their necks. But will the respectable citizens of Philadelphia who met at Dunwoody's, feel no resentment at the virulent abuse on them and their chairman? If the committee do not think proper immediately to reply to these publications, will the citizens calmly and silently acquiesce in opinion with Dallas and Leib, that they are the villainous band they are proclaimed to be in citizen Claypoole's paper of Tuesday? They should recollect and must remember, that Mr. Wharton merely acted as their chairman and signed their acts, therefore this insolent attack is made on them and not on him alone.

A Citizen of Philadelphia.

We are requested to caution the Electors of the State of Pennsylvania against an imposition which, it is likely, will be attempted at the ensuing election for Governor. Instead of James Ross of Pittsburg, the Jacobins will attempt to pawn on his friends James Ross, of Lancaster. Unless the deception is guarded against, a division of the federal votes may be effected, and thereby insure to the Jacobin candidate a fraudulent majority.

The question upon the subject of Removal of the Banks is further postponed until Wednesday next; when, it is presumed, from the favorable aspect of the prevaling malady, the committies will resolve in the negative.

The number of persons admitted in the CITY HOSPITAL, ought not to be considered as a criterion by which a judgment may be formed of the progress of the calamity which at present afflicts this city. And we trust the alarm which it has excited, will in some measure subside, when it is known, that, fearful of introducing contagion, the Pennsylvania Hospital and the Alms House, do not admit paupers during the existence of the disease; and consequently all persons who were formerly sent to those places are now included in the admissions of the City Hospital.

A late Baltimore paper says, the lovers of the wonderful of nature, may have an opportunity of viewing a CUCUMBER, that measures Five feet four inches long, and thick in proportion.

NEW-YORK, September 5.

On the authority of private letters received in town, dated the 13th of August, we mention for the information of our merchants, that on that day there were 34 American vessels in Port Republican, St Domingo, and 5 while the letter was writing in the Offing—there were 54 also in Port au Prince; and the markets extremely dull in consequence of the civil war between Toussaint and Rigaud. We further learn, that a conspiracy had been formed to deliver up Port Republican to Rigaud, but was discovered, and 15 concerned in it put to death. The black government is not relished by the white inhabitants—one respectable planter lately shot himself, rather than be subject to the command of those who were formerly his slaves. In the island of St. Thomas American produce is "literally kicked about the island, and Americans treated with the greatest contumely."

In the Council of Five Hundred, on the 14th of June, Jourdan, in the name of the Committee of Eleven, stated, that a strict execution of the existing laws would augment the armies to 500,000 men: proposed an amnesty to deserters returning to their corps, and death as the penalty of future desertion;—and on the 26th, from the same committee, proposed a loan of 100 millions to be raised on the richer classes, who are to be reimbursed by the sale of national domains. The plan was adopted, and the committee dissolved.

It is a fact well established, that it was principally through the medium, and by the assistance of many of the twenty thousand thieves and miscreants, whose names were registered previous to the anarchy of France on the books of the Lieutenant of Police, that the contending factions in that distracted country, were enabled to perpetrate those horrid massacres and acts of atrocity, which have been viewed with detestation, abhorrence and astonishment by every civilized nation in the world.

The Commerce of England is said to have amounted in 1753, to only one Third its present extent.

In consequence of some unguarded language used by John B. Church, esq. of this city, respecting col. Burr, at a private table in town, and reported to col. Burr. the latter sent Mr. Church a challenge, which being accepted, the gentlemen met on Monday evening about sun-set on Jersey shore, at Hoebuck ferry. Mr. Hammond was the second of Mr. Church, and Judge Burke, of South Carolina, the second of Mr. Burr.

The gentlemen, placed at ten yards distance, delivered their fire very steadily, without any other effect than the ball from Mr. Church's pistol passing through Mr. Burr's coat. The pistols being about to be re-loaded for the second shot, Mr. Church, with great frankness and candour, made concessions, which col. Burr's second and himself deemed satisfactory, and the parties amicably shook hands. Com. Adv.

ALEXANDRIA, September 3.

FROM THE WEST-INDIES.

The brig Catherine, capt. John Lawrence, of Hartford, arrived here yesterday in 18 days from Barbadoes. On the 21st of August spoke the ship Sympathy, capt. Wm. Hancock, from Newbern to Cape Francois; out 14 days, lat. 26, 20 N. long. 61, 0 W. Captain Lawrence favored the Editor with several Barbadoes papers, from which the following intelligence is extracted:

BRIDGE-TOWN, (Barbados) August 3.

By letters from Martinique we have advices of an expedition preparing there, but our communication does not particularize any place as the object of it, and it is in vain for conjecture to make its comments.

Having exhausted our English papers of all their important and interesting paragraphs, we are compelled to substitute in their stead miscellaneous articles, having recourse to the hackneyed promise of making sufficient amends upon the arrival of the packet, at whose stay it is difficult to account.

August 6.—By the Mail Boat that arrived on Sunday last, we are enabled to state the sailing of the Expedition (spoken of in out last) from Martinico on the Wednesday evening preceding, in consequence of which a general Embargo had been laid there. The destination of this expedition still remains a supposition, but that supposition strongly inclines to Surinam as its object. We hope in a little time to unfold the mysterious consequences of it.

August, 13.—By an arrival yesterday we learn that a French corvette had captured and carried into Surinam an English ship of 22 guns, whose name and destination were unknown—and that there were in that port 50 sail of Americans ready laden, waiting for a convoy. The Portsmouth American Frigate, it is added, was cruizing off the coast.

The Cyane, from Martinico, yesterday brings accounts of the last fleet having left Tortola on the 28th ultimo, in which admiral Hervey sailed for England in his majesty's ship the Concord.

Yesterday noon the ordnance at Pilgrim and Charles Fort fired a royal salute in commemoration of the birth day of his royal highness George Prince of Wales who attained his 37th year.

From the New-York, Gazette,

A respectable merchant of this city, yesterday handed us a Charleston paper of the 16th ultimo, which contains the following.

INTERESTING NARRATIVE.

Extract from the log-book of the brig Maria.

"On the 24th of July, sailed from Sandy Hook. Nothing happened till the 3d of August, when at 3 P. M. we saw a sloop coming before the wind all sail set for us; on coming nearer, we saw that she was a privateer; we tacked for her; at 4 P. M. gave her a shot: she directly hauled her wind, hoisted English colours, and fired a gun to the leeward, the signal for a friend. We put about and stood on our course, then in the lat. 30. 15. long. 67.

"We kept on our course till the 7th; at half-past 7 A. M. saw a large ship off the leeward quarter, and a schooner astern, steering the same course with us. At the same time saw the Hole in the Wall, off the leebow, and a ship to the windward, standing to the northward. At half-past 8, she bore down, was in a squall, and fired a shot at us under Spanish colours. At the same time we carried away our top-mast steering-boom, which gave the ship the advantage of coming up. She hoisted English colours, and sent her boat on board, which took me and all my papers out. After taking me on board sent back the boat and searched all the trunks and the hold. After that pressed four men, with regular protections.

"At 5 P. M. sent me on board with my papers, with a lieutenant and 12 men, and made sail for Providence, where we arrived next day, at one o'clock. At two, the captain came on board the Maria, with the Purser, a midshipman, and boat's crew; took me, the supercargo and a passenger on shore with him; left both vessels lying off. About three quarters of an hour after being on shore I found that I was to be condemned.

"The midshipman had orders to go off, with a letter to the lieutenant, to bring the Maria to Forbes's wharf, and there to moor her, which I took to be a true sign for condemnation. I therefore took this opportunity to go off with the boat. On my going on board I met her close to the bar: I told the pilot to run no risque, for if he should touch I would have his head off that moment; which frightened the fellow, and made him keep her off.

"At half past seven, a cloud being over the moon, I gave my officers the signal that I meant to take her, and the word was Maria: which was soon done, and all sail made for this port, were I arrived, all in safety, with the first lieutenant of the Arab, 12 seamen, and the pilot.

"My greatest thanks are due to Doctor Cuyler, for his attention, and supporting me during the passage from Nassau to this port."

SALEM, Aug. 30.

We hear that a partial action has taken place in India between the British and Tippoo Saib's army, in which the latter were defeated with the loss of several thousand men.

BOSTON, Aug. 31.

WEST-INDIA EXPEDITION.

It has been mentioned, that an expedition from the British Windward Islands, was in contemplation.----A gentleman yesterday favoured us with the following:

Extract of a letter, dated Grenada, July 23.

"This moment three frigates have sailed from this island; they have on board six hundred German soldiers, taken from Richmond-Hill here, and bound for Barbadoes. They have taken an equal number from all the Windward islands. Their destination is unknown; but Guadaloupe and Surinam are spoken of."

Some have conjectured that if the information relative to the intended departure of the envoys for France has truth for its basis, the President has received advices from Europe which give a colouring to an expectation of a general peace; and that he thinks it necessary that America should have agents at hand on such an occasion. Not any event however, within the spere of public knowledge, warrants a belief that pacification is an object very suddenly contemplated by the contending powers. (Col. Gen.

It can hardly be credited that any proffers on the part of the present ruling powers in France, will be considered as sufficient "assurances" to establish the confidence of this country in the honor, justice or good faith of Barras, Sieyes, Talleyrand & Co. [ibid.

Who can doubt, should America stoop at this period to lick the blood embrued hand which for years has desolated Europe, and strewed its fairest portions with carnage and ruin, that the door would not be speedily opened for the admission into this country of thousands of agents from that accursed hot-bed of anarchy, atheism and intrigues whose cultivators bear resemblance only to the great Jacobin of old, beneath whose sway undoubtedly repose their former equals in infamy and crimes, Danton, Robespiere, Condorcet, Marat, &c. &c. &c. [ibid.

Our Jacobins recently resounded their bedlamite roarings at the idea of any connection with Great Britain; pure love of country perhaps was their stimulas; they alledged that Great Britain was on the brink of ruin, and that it would be madness to have any concern in the interests of a "tottering monarchy." At no period of the present war has so dark a cloud enveloped Britain as that which now appears to hang over France; victory crowns her enemies without, and civil feuds strengthen and expand within: the Legislative power, which has so long been the passive tool of Directorial tyranny, according to the latest accounts, has shaken off the manacles with which it has been bound, and a language is now spoken, which must make the quintuple tiara of despotism tremble upon the head of the Monster, and produce an enervation, the precursor, it is hoped, of its complete ruin. [ibid.

Citizen Sieyes, lately chosen a member of the French Directory, declared himself, after the commencement of the revolution, and not long after the assassination of Louis XVI, a decided friend to monarchy. Notwithstanding Sieyes might have imbibed the idea that the king would be murdered, he probably entertained the opinion that prevailed with many of his countrymen, that the Dauphin would be placed upon the throne: but after that unfortunate youth had been poisoned by the agents of the French Convention, and that the brothers of Louis had left the kingdom, Sieyes probably thought it best to change his notes: The encomium contained in his installation speech upon the purity and integrity of his brother Directors, was rather ill-timed; as three of that immaculate band were shortly after obliged to divest themselves of the Directorial purple, and quit the seat of power—and in addition to this, they were accused by the Councils, one of them particularly, as being guilty of the most horrible outrages. [Ibid.

HARRISBURG, August 28.—On Saturday morning last Wm. Nichols, Esq. Marshal of Pensylvania arrested Benjamin Moyer and Conrod Fahnestock, printers and proprietors of a Dutch Aurora of this borough, for publishing a "false, scandalous and malicious" libel against the laws and government of the United States. They have given bail for their appearance at the District Court of the United States, to be held at the city of Philadelphia on the 11th of October next, themselves in 2000 Dollars each, and four sureties of 1000 each.

Vivat Respublica.

CHARLESTON, August 24.—Capt. Parker, from Norfolk, informs, that the frigates United States and Insurgente sailed from the Chesapeake on the 13th inst. On the 15th, he saw two large vessels stand in and anchor under Hatteras, which he supposed to be these two ships.

August 23.—A letter from a gentleman in the island of St. Kitt's, to his friend in this city, dated July 21, has the following paragraph:

"The latter end of this week a small expedition will sail from hence, and you may expect to hear that we have taken possession of Surinam, for the use of the Stadtholder."

SPECULATION.

TO BE SOLD,

AT Public Vendue, on Monday the 23d of September next, at 2 o'clock, P. M. at the house of the Subscriber, living in the town of New-Castle, State of Delaware, a number of valuable suitable for building on, being the South square of the flourishing town of New-Castle aforesaid, distant from Philadelphia thirty-three miles.

This valuable property is highly capable of improvement, being immediately on the river Delaware, having a number of wharf lots on it; and from the depth of the water (earth and materials for wharfing being easily procured) there is no doubt but wharves would bring a handsome interest.

This property consists of five acres more or less, in one body; lays high, and is divided into lots to suit every description of persons.—New-Castle is one of the most healthy and flourishing towns on the continent; and from the increase of trade it has raised property to four times the value it was seven years past—The number of vessels bound out and in, which stop for supplies of stock, &c. &c. and the whole carriage of goods between Philadelphia and Baltimore, is now through this place. The packets and stages from the aforesaid cities, &c. &c. make it very lively: there is not, at this time, one house to be rented in the place; and the number of applications for houses make it an object for persons to improve. There are a number of elegant and useful buildings now going on, a Public Academy and several private Schools. The malignant Fever has never made any progress, and the Ague scarcely known; the number of children in this place is a convincing proof of the healthiness of it. The prospect of the river Delawrre, up and down is delightful; as far as the eye can distinguish you may view the vessels in different attitudes. There is reason to suppose that public piers for the Navy will be built here, as vessels can sail from this place when the river is fast at Philadelphia.

The conditions of sale will be easy and made known on the day of sale. Places of public worship, market and mills are very contiguous

JOHN DARRAGH.

N. B.—A plat of the above will be exhibited any time previous, as well as on the day of sale
